FOREWORD

The Washington Statistical Society is the largest and one of the oldest local Chapters of the American Statistical Association. Its purpose is to serve the needs of the local statistical community. WSS is far more than just a conduit for information. It serves to establish and strengthen ties among academia, the Federal statistical community, and the private research sector.

WSS has a unique structure. Some such organizations have a few active individuals who do all the work. Other organizations have a few individuals who make decisions and a large group of followers who implement those decisions. WSS, however, is an “amalgamation of leaders.” Each WSS president has special priorities and emphases during their term in office and they fill vacancies that have occurred. However, most work of the Society is done by the volunteer leaders who chair the program and other committees and make WSS such a vital and dynamic organization. This publication is an attempt to provide recognition to all of the WSS leaders.

This document consolidates information from various records. It is also intended as a point-in-time summary to become part of the files and reduce the work of future WSS “historians.” Most categories in this edition have been updated as of November 2001. This issue is intended as an “Internet only” update and there are no plans to formally print and distribute copies.

In addition to listings, this publication contains short explanations of various programs and topics. Features include descriptions of the WSS Quantitative Literacy Program and WSS members who became ASA fellows.

This summary focuses on people, rather than years. If one person kept the same position for multiple consecutive years, all years have been combined as one entry. Some liberties have been taken with position titles. For example, the Representatives-at-Large listing includes everyone who served in a comparable position, regardless of its title at the time.

Apologies are offered in advance for misspellings or uses of less than favored name forms. Please let someone on the Board of Directors know of such corrections. Also, please let current Board members know of information sources that will help fill in missing entries.

Finally, I want to recognize that this publication would never have come to fruition without the excellent and efficient typing and reformatting efforts of Chrissy Jenkins and the file loading of WSS Webmaster, Dan Jacobs.

WSS, A CONDENSED HISTORY

This summary is a brief overview of statistical activities in the Washington , D.C. area over the past 103 years. It summarizes information from more detailed histories prepared over time.

The first American Statistical Association (ASA) meeting in Washington took place December 31, 1896. The Directors of ASA were certainly perceptive when they stated that a development "...which will lead to good results, it is believed, has been taken in authorizing the members living in or near Washington to hold meetings for scientific discussion." That first meeting had one negative note. ASA President Francis A. Walker, who delivered informal remarks about training statisticians, became ill and passed away January 5, 1897. ASA records indicate that at least six additional meetings were held in Washington during the first few months of 1897. As might be expected, the topics mostly dealt with government statistics applications. One meeting was to draft a resolution that the President of the United States appoint a Board of Statistics.

Few references can be found to presentations from 1897 to 1925. However, there was interest building for a formal organization. A meeting was held January 19, 1926, at which a Washington Statistical Society Constitution was drafted. That Constitution described the WSS as "a branch of the American Statistical Association" but WSS did not apply to become a Chapter. Most ASA publications of that period refer to the "Washington District" but the Chapter is used at least once.

The 1926 enthusiasm waned over time. According to annual ASA reports, there were no meetings in 1931 and 1933 and only one meeting held in each of the years 1929, 1930, and 1934. A revival of interest took place in 1935 and WSS officially became a Chapter of ASA. The Constitution of 1935 specified that the ASA District Secretary shall be the Society Secretary, which institutionalized the convention already in place. The 1930's were less complicated. Every ASA member in the Washington area was simply considered a WSS member (359 in 1937). Dues were officially $1.00 per year but no serious collection efforts were made. Instead, the Secretary collected 15 cents from each meeting attendee (25 cents at luncheon meetings).

By 1941, WSS was insolvent and had to collect the $1.00 dues. With the increase in statisticians in Washington because of the war effort, WSS claimed its 1942 membership as 1,000 persons but only 200 paid. One notable idea of the 1940's was beginning the "Annual Dinner" tradition.

Through the 1950's, the Board of Directors functioned largely as a program committee with an evening meeting scheduled each month for 7 or 8 months. One early history of WSS concluded that the most notable accomplishment of WSS might be "its development of program items which evolve into sessions of the ASA's Annual Meetings."

The 1960's were years of rapid changes and development. The Methodology Section was established, followed by subject matter program committees, which eventually grew to 10 on-going committees. This freed officers to consider new programs and services. Recognition of outstanding graduate students at local universities started in 1962 and a monthly employment column in 1967. Another service was a committee to help the Maryland Chapter organize and spin off from WSS.

The 1966 Constitution recognized the need for continuity and formally established President-Elect and Past-President positions. In 1968 was an important "bald head" Board of Directors discussion. The concern was that older members tended to attend the more social meetings while more technical meetings drew the younger members. This led to a membership survey to evaluate members' preferences for types of sessions, locations, and times of day.

WSS created some significant 1970's programs. It cosponsored a 3-day symposium on Statistics and the Environment in 1974, presented a once-a-week 6-week variance estimation course in 1978, and hosted visiting Latin American statisticians. Other notable events were establishment of a "local associate membership" option in 1976 and the Julius Shiskin Memorial Award in 1979.

The world changed in the early 1980's and WSS hosted the first visitors from the National Statistical Society of China. WSS also changed to better serve members' technical and social needs. A Short Course Committee was founded in 1983 and that Committee started an annual series of very professional Symposia on Quality Assurance in 1988. December holiday parties began in 1982. A landmark activity was the 10 special monthly presentations during 1988 and 1989 in conjunction with the ASA-150 celebration. WSS started judging local Science Fair competitions in 1986 and by the late 1980's was gearing up to assist local schools to improve quantitative literacy.

The 1990's have shown an ever growing quantitative literacy emphasis, including expansion to special workshops for Girl Scouts. WSS became a leader in the information age with electronic mail distribution of the WSS calendar and newsletter. WSS has received positive reinforcement from outside organizations. In 1990, Westat, Inc. gave WSS a grant to start an annual Morris H. Hansen Lecture. In 1992, the National Association of Business Economists provided a renewed emphasis and new funding for the Shiskin Award. In 1995, WSS received a commitment of $1000 per year from Gallup to provide prizes to local Science Fair winners.

Services for members have continued to expand in the 90's. A Data Collection Methods Program Committee was started in 1991 and the Physical Sciences and Engineering Committee was merged with the Quality Assurance Program Committee in 1996 to strengthen those programs. WSS also re-examined its role and the role of statistics in society. A Public Policy Program Committee was initiated in 1995. In 1999, the WSS Board prepared a letter to the Editors of the Washington Post, weighing in on the scientific issues regarding the 2000 population census.

A special event for the 1990's was a commemoration session in 1996 to celebrate the first statistical meeting. One topic was a review of the training for statisticians in the past century, following up on President Walker's remarks a century earlier.

OFFICERS OF WSS

According to the 1984 Constitution, the "officers" of WSS are a President, a President-elect, a Secretary, a Treasurer, four Representatives-at-Large, and the Chairs of all sections. However, the Past President, District Representative, and Council Representative are also voting members of the Board of Directors. Thus, all of those positions are included in this chapter.

PRESIDENTS

Ever since WSS became an official chapter of the American Statistical Association, each elected president has served only 1 year. However, the 1966 Constitution effectively established a 3-year term of President-Elect, President, and Past President.

VICE PRESIDENTS

The 1926 WSS Constitution called for the direct election of a Vice President. The 1966 Constitution shifted to the President-Elect position but the practice of the Vice President becoming the next President has been in effect since 1961. Therefore, the following listing of Vice Presidents only covers the period to 1960. For completeness of this publication, the 2001-2002 President-Elect is Brenda Cox.

SECRETARIES AND TREASURERS

For much of its history, WSS operated with a combined Secretary/Treasurer position. The person in that position often provided year-to-year continuity with Thomas B. Rhodes serving 11 years and Albert Mindlin 8 years. The 1966 WSS Constitution allowed for the establishment of separate positions and President Tom Jabine implemented that option in 1978 because of the fund raising activities for the Julius Shiskin Award.

REPRESENTATIVES-AT-LARGE

The 1926 WSS Constitution called for the election of three officers and the addition of two other members to the Executive Committee. The numbers of "at-large" Board members have varied over time from two to five. The 1966 Constitution specified three "Directors-at-Large." The 1984 Constitution renamed the position as Representative-at-Large and established four 2-year terms with two positions being filled each year. The table below lists all "at-large" entries that can be found.

REPRESENTATIVES TO THE ASA BOARD

Up to 1990 the American Statistical Association (ASA) included some type of District or Regional Representatives to its Board of Directors. Much of that time WSS constituted the only Chapter in its geographic area or was in a geographic area which included the Maryland Chapter. For example, in 1981 two candidates from the Maryland Chapter were nominated for the District 3 Representative in order to ensure that the Maryland Chapter would have a Representative. The ASA Constitution which took effect January 1, 1991, reduces the size of the ASA Board and provides for geographic representation through the Council of Chapters.

<sup>1/</sup> The 1991 ASA Constitution provides for 3-year terms and specifies that no person can hold two Council of Chapters positions. Thus, the first name is the District 2 Vice Chair and the second name is the WSS Representative to the Council.

METHODOLOGY SECTION OFFICERS

WSS Constitutions since 1966 have provided that the Chairperson of any Section shall be a voting member of the Board of Directors and have specified the requirements for establishing a Section. Section status has been sought only for the Methodology Section; all other topic areas have been handled by Program Committees.

Being elected to the Methodology Section involves a 2-year assignment. The first year the person serves as “Program Chairperson” and the second as “Section Chairperson.” Because of that rotation, only the Section Chairpersons have been listed below. There have been four exceptions to the 2-year pattern. Edward Batschelet in 1964-65, Maria E. Gonzalez in 1971-72, Karen Kafadar in 1982-83, and Andy White in 1989-90, served as Program Chairpersons but did not move up to the other position in the next year for various reasons. The first 2 years of the Section, no Program Chairperson was named. The 2001-2002 Program Chairperson has been Mary Batcher.

WSS COMMITTEES

WSS has made good use of committees for planning program sessions and for other activities of the Society such as the monthly employment column. Each committee member is considered a (nonvoting) member of the Board of Directors during their tenure. Many program "Committees" were in fact one person up to the early 1980's. At that time, there were efforts to spread the workload, get more people involved in WSS, and provide for better continuity by expanding to at least two people.

QUALITY ASSURANCE SYMPOSIUM COMMITTEE, 1988-92

Between 1988 and 1992, WSS presented a very professional and forward looking symposium on Quality Assurance in the Government. The symposium required sustained efforts from a number of people each year. Glenn White and Ron Fecso served on the committee each of the 5 years, with Glenn chairing each year except 1990. Other committee members were Virginia de Wolf 1988-89; Jack Galvin 1988-89 and 1991-92; Pete Karcher 1988-89; David Marker 1988-89 and 1991-92; Douglas Hale 1988-90; William Lockerby 1988-89; Don Tucker 1988; Stanley

CONSTITUTION AND REVIEW COMMITTEES

WSS has benefitted throughout its history by a number of internal review task forces and committees. Unfortunately, no historic tracks could be found of the key members involved in some important events such as drafting the 1926 Constitution. Below are listed committees and members who could be documented.

SCIENCE FAIR JUDGES

Judging of local public school science fairs for projects containing significant statistical presentations has been done since 1986. Normally 25 or more WSS members serve as volunteer judges each year, with many people assisting year after year. Below are listed the names of individuals who have participated in the annual judging. Since serving as Chief Statistics Judge carries added responsibilities, those individuals are listed separately.

QUANTITATIVE LITERACY PROGRAM

WSS has supported the American Statistical Association Quantitative Literacy initiative with its own very active QL program. WSS members have contacted public schools in the District of Columbia and surrounding counties to make arrangements for classroom visits. Many of the materials and exercises used in the schools come from ASA developed resources or the Annenberg series “Against All Odds.” However, most individuals have developed additional examples based on their own work and experiences. One WSS participant, Terry O’Connor, prepared a primer on how to make arrangements with a school and prepare for the classroom.

Fred Russell QL Coordinator for Charles, Calvert, and St. Mary’s Counties, along with Ann Anderson, Gary Frick, Vicki Magnus, and Patricia Wallace, expanded the public school QL program to the Girl Scouts in 1996. They prepared age appropriate activities for Brownies, Juniors, and Cadets for Saturday workshops. In January 2000, WSS sponsored a Montgomery County teacher to attend a ASA QL course.

Well over 100 people have participated in WSS sponsored QL visits. However, since the names of all individual participants are not known, the names of the various school district coordinators are provided instead.

NOMINATING AND ELECTIONS COMMITTEE

The WSS Nominating and Elections Committee has taken on many forms at different times. Usually the Committee was officially appointed by the President, but the Past President often served as the Chair. In some years, a formal Committee was not named but the Past President informally called on other members for advice about potential candidates. That has been the case since 1986, so committees are not identified past that point. Below are listed as many members of past Nominating and Elections Committees as could be found. If one name is listed, only the Chair for that year could be determined.

COMMITTEE ON ASA FELLOWS

WSS was one of the first ASA satellite organizations to adopt the practice of forming a committee to identify members who should be nominated for consideration of the rank of ASA Fellow. The Committee was listed in the 1975 WSS Constitution as a standing committee. The Committee members did not necessarily prepare and submit the nomination but they would enlist individuals to serve as the nominator and to prepare seconding letters. Individuals are never billed as “the WSS candidate for Fellows.” One result of the Committee activities was a set of written guidelines on how to prepare a strong nomination.

Since the Committees’ actions had to be confidential, the members of the Committee itself were not widely publicized. Below are listed Committee members for as many years as could be found. If only one person is listed, they served as the Committee Chair.

AWARDS

The Washington Statistical Society has sponsored a number of awards. Some were very short-lived but others found a consistent niche and proved to be long standing. Awards to outstanding graduate students at local universities have been given since 1961 and the Julius Shiskin Memorial Award has been presented since 1980. Besides the selective awards listed in this section, WSS presents a certificate as each Past President leaves the Board of Directors.

OUTSTANDING CHAPTER MEMBER

As part of the American Statistical Association Sesquicentennial celebration in 1989, each Chapter was asked to designate its outstanding member. Some guidelines were provided but the decision was that of the Chapter. Samuel Greenhouse was selected as the WSS recipient "for numerous outstanding contributions to the Chapter including cofounding the Methodology Section, and for active participation in both the Program Review Committee and the Improvement Task Force whose recommendations resulted in substantive improvements in WSS programs, seminars and courses, and in responsiveness to its membership."

CHAPTER SERVICE RECOGNITION AWARD

In 1991, the American Statistical Association established a Chapter Service Recognition program. The award consists of a certificate and an announcement of the recipients at the Joint Statistical Meetings. Because of the small size of many ASA Chapters, each Chapter was allowed to present an award only every 5th year. The first WSS recipient, in 1991, was Rich Allen: "for outstanding dedication, innovative leadership, and innumerable contributions to both the Washington Statistical Society and the American Statistical Association over the past decade, which have led to a far better Chapter, locally, and a much stronger Association, nationwide."

The 1996 award was presented to Fritz Scheuren "In recognition of the many years of unfailing support of the Washington Statistical Society during which time he served as an elected officer, committee member, and frequent seminar organizer, chair, speaker, or discussant."

The rules were later amended to allow larger Chapters to nominate more often. Glenn White received a 1998 award "In recognition of many years of outstanding service to the Washington Statistical Society, particularly in the organization of short courses." Dwight Brock was recognized in 2001 "For initiative in quantitative literacy and volunteer service to community schools and the statistical community, and serving as WSS President, Council of Chapters and Council of Sections Officer, and as an ASA Board Representative."

PRESIDENTS' AWARD

The WSS Presidents' Award recognizes special service to the Society. The President, President-Elect, and Past President each year jointly determine the person(s) to be recognized. The award consists of a certificate signed by the WSS President and the ASA President.

CURTIS JACOBS MEMORIAL PRIZE

In 1992 the Curtis Jacobs Memorial Prize was created to honor the memory of a former Bureau of Labor Statistics statistician . The award is designed to encourage middle and high school students to gain an understanding and appreciation of surveys and their uses. Students are invited to submit projects that include collecting and analyzing survey data and writing a project report. Most submissions are from teams of students but Maria Scheers-Masters was selected as the prize winner in 1995. No applications were received in 2001.

ROGER HERRIOT AWARD

In 1995, WSS joined the Social Statistics and Government Statistics Sections of ASA to create the Roger A. Herriot Award for Innovation in Federal Statistics. The goal was to reflect the special characteristics that marked Roger's career at Census Bureau and the National Center for Education Statistics: dedication to issues of measurement, improvement in efficiency of data collection programs, and improvement and use of statistical data for policy analysis. The first annual award of a $500 honorarium was presented to Joseph Waksberg of Westat, Inc. Later winners have been Monroe Sirken, NCHS, 1996; Connie Citro, CNSTAT, 1997; Roderick Harrison, Census and Clyde Tucker, BLS, 1998; Tom Jabine, 1999; Don Dillman, Washington State University, 2000; and Jeanne Griffith, NSF, 2001. The original Selection Committee was Dan Levine, GSS; Dan Kasprzyk, SSS, and Fritz Scheuren, WSS. Lynda Carlson replaced Dan Levine in 1999 and Jerry Gates replaced Fritz Scheuren in 2001.

OUTSTANDING GRADUATE STUDENTS

Each local university with graduate programs in statistics is asked each year to name their outstanding graduate student with an interest in statistics. The only criteria are that the person be a full-time student and not have received the award before. Students selected receive a 1-year membership in the American Statistical Association and the Washington Statistical Society.

The award program began in 1961 but no university has taken part each year. In some cases, the university no longer felt that they had full-time graduate students. On the following pages are listed the universities and recipients by year.

JULIUS SHISKIN MEMORIAL AWARD

The Julius Shiskin Memorial Award for Economic Statistics was founded by WSS in 1979 to honor Julius who had such a broad and important career. Lillian Madow and Sue Rustemeyer were particularly instrumental in proposing this special recognition and took the lead in contacting other organizations and building support. Six organizations that Julius had been associated with during his career--Bureau of the Census, Bureau of Economic Analysis, Bureau of Labor Statistics, National Association of Business Economists, National Bureau of Economic Research, and the Office of Management and Budget--agreed to join in sponsoring the award and the initial fund raising. WSS agreed to handle the funds received and provide all necessary administrative support.

The award program began in 1980 with a $250 cash prize and a certificate at the WSS Annual Dinner. A second fund raising appeal was conducted at the time that the first award was presented. During the first few years of the program, additional funding was received annually, particularly from Shiskin family members. At least one early award recipients donated the award money back to the fund. The award amount was increased to $500 in 1989 and to $750 in 1996.

The award was established to honor "unusually original and important contributions in the development of economic statistics or in the use of economic statistics in interpreting the economy. The contribution can be in statistical research, in the development of statistical tools, in the application of computers, in the use of economic statistics to analyze and interpret the economy, in the management of statistical programs, or in developing public understanding of measurement issues." The awards selection process has considered each nominee for a second year if not selected in the initial year of nomination. The Committee also decided that the award would consider only living individuals and not honor earlier contributions to the broad field of economic statistics.

The award program has recognized a wide variety of individuals and quite different contributions. At the discretion of the committee, two awards have been awarded some years. A group effort can be nominated but no such winning selection has ever been made.

An important milestone was a rededication to the purposes of the award by the National Association of Business Economists in 1992. NABE agreed to donate $500 to the fund annually and the award was presented on behalf of both NABE and WSS. The Business and Economics Section of the American Statistical Association became an additional co-sponsor in 2002.

During most of its history, the Award Committee has operated in near anonymity. However, since the committee members receive no other compensation for their annual review efforts, the listing on the next page provides at least a historic recognition for their efforts.

SCIENCE FAIR WINNERS

Since 1986, through the urging of and tireless organization efforts of Susan Ellenberg, volunteer WSS members have judged local science fairs for projects with statistical merit. Science Fairs covered include the District of Columbia; Montgomery, Prince George's, and Fairfax Counties; and the Northern Virginia Science Fair which includes Alexandria, Falls Church, and Arlington County schools. Normally high school and junior high entries are judged but the District and Prince George's also have elementary school entries. Lee Abramson took over leadership in 1993 and has shepherded the program ever since.

A book such as "Statistics--A Guide to the Unknown" or "The Fascination of Statistics" has been presented to first prize recipients along with honorable mention recognitions. Starting in 1996, because of funding from the Gallup organization, one top prize of $200 and a Gallup tee shirt is given at each of the five Science Fairs. In recent years, the number of total prizes has varied from 39 to 51, with 10 to 18 individuals receiving first prize recognition. From 23 to 29 people have served as judges each year with some individuals participating nearly every year. All projects must be reviewed since there is no separate mathematics or statistics category. Volunteers receive a WSS mug for their time and effort.

ACHIEVEMENT BY YOUNG PROFESSIONALS

During the 1967-68 program year, WSS started a recognition program for young professionals in the Washington, D.C. area. The Award for Achievement by Young Professionals was to go to the best paper submitted by professionals under the age of 35 as determined by a panel of WSS reviewers. First prize was an award of $100.

This was an admirable and worthwhile project, but a difficult one to administer. Awards were given only in 1968 through 1970. A committee chair was named for 1970-71 but the Society decided to discontinue the award. Although not long lived, the program should be acknowledged for realizing strong potential. Of the 12 individuals listed below as awardees or honorable mention, at least five became Fellows of the American Statistical Association.

AWARD FOR ACHIEVEMENT BY YOUNG PROFESSIONALS, 1968-70

Year	Awardee	Honorable Mention
1968	Thomas Kirby Burch	Paul Loizeaux Canner Joseph L. Gastwirth

1970	Brian L. Joiner	William C. Blackwelder James J. Filliben Peter W. Shaughnessy

YOU DEN AWARD

In 1973, WSS established a W.J. Youden memorial scholarship program in conjunction with the American Society for Quality Control (not to be confused with the W.J. Youden Award in Interlaboratory Testing of the American Statistical Association). The program hoped to receive funding from both organizations to provide scholarship assistance for a worthy student at the Washington Technical Institute. The program had coordination problems nearly from the start and it was apparently only awarded in 1973 and 1976.

WSS DISTINGUISHED SPEAKER LECTURE

In 1987, WSS departed from normal tradition and started inviting one person annually to WSS for a special lecture and paying some of the expenses. The hope was to attract a name speaker and to find other organizations that would share the expenses. This program operated until 1989.

MORRIS H. HANSEN MEMORIAL LECTURE

In 1990, a new program was established which paralleled the WSS Distinguished Speaker Lecture. Westat, Inc. gave WSS a grant to honor Morris Hansen for his pioneering contributions to survey sampling and related statistical methods. A special lecture, based on Morris' wide reaching interests, is presented each fall. The late afternoon event is followed by a reception which allows time for discussion with the lecturer and discussants.

A special feature is that the lectures have been published. The first five lectures were published in the International Statistical Review. The 1996 and 1997 lectures were published in the Journal of Official Statistics. J. N. K. Rao's 1998 lecture was published in Sankhya, Series B and the 1999 lecture was published in the Journal of Official Statistics.

WSS MEMBERS SELECTED AS ASA FELLOWS

Disclaimer

All earlier material in this publication has been well researched and hopefully is factually accurate. This last section, which attempts to identify all WSS members who also have been American Statistical Association (ASA) members, can not meet the same standards.

The main reason for the discrepancy is that WSS has not had annual, or even periodic, listings of its members. WSS memberships are included in most members' ASA renewals. For at least 25 years, updated address labels were received monthly for mailing WSS newsletters but an annual "WSS membership list" was not kept. Without such lists, it is almost assured that the listing below is both incomplete and includes some individuals who were not actually WSS members.

Incompleteness arises because a number of individuals located far from the Washington, D.C. vicinity become WSS members and stay members for extended periods of time. Examples are individuals who travel to the Washington, D.C. area often and hope to attend WSS sessions when they are here, active ASA chapter or committee members in other areas looking for innovative program ideas, and individuals interested in the WSS employment column for themselves or for their students. Lars Lyberg of Statistics Sweden and John McKenzie, Jr. of Babson College in Boston are examples of far flung WSS members who were identified and included in this listing. When such an "outlying WSS member" becomes an ASA fellow, it may not be realized. (As a point of clarification, a "visiting professor" who is in town for a year or so and has a courtesy WSS membership during that time is not included in the intent for this listing.)

False inclusions occur when the annual new fellows list comes out and Board members attempt to identify which are WSS members. Most classifications are easy because the individuals have been on the WSS Board or otherwise active. However, when there is doubt about whether a person is a WSS member, the normal practice is to include them in the annual publicity of new WSS members as fellows. One reason for this is that a person may have been a WSS member at some time even if not currently.

Methodology

In the past, this history has attempted to present a rolling list of living ASA fellows. Thanks to the diligent efforts of Pat McClelland at the ASA office, a listing of all ASA fellows, by year of selection, is now available. That new listing was used as the starting point for this publication.

Four sources were used for developing the list below. All individuals included earlier in this publication as WSS officers, committee members, science fair judges, etc. who were selected as ASA fellows were definite matches. This amounts to 192 people. The second source checked was all presenters listed in Washington Statistical Society Technical Sessions, Volume I, 1896–1962. Presenters in that publication who were from the Washington area were added if they became ASA fellows since all statisticians in the area were considered to be WSS members during much of that period. This accounted for 78 people. All 47 additional individuals identified in the benchmark 1972 WSS Organization Manual were then added. The fourth source used was updates included in the WSS history publications of 1989, 1992, 1996, and 1999 plus the 2000 fellows selections. As a follow-up, the listing was sent to some “senior” WSS members to see if they could identify any names which were missed. That process has added 10 names so far.

In addition to names and years of selection, an indicator has been added for members known to be deceased. One source for this determination was the 1995 ASA Directory which listed only living fellows at that time. That information was augmented by knowledge of recent deaths.

Please send the WSS Secretary any updates of individuals who should have been included in this listing or who are deceased so that records can be improved.
